Polar FAH9020

sophisticated design

The Falmec collection of extraction systems are some of the most beautiful appliances available on the market today. The sophisticated designs break the barriers of traditional hood manufacturing and will reveal the individuality of your passion for cooking and your appreciation for style.

absolute quality

Falmec's high quality control systems are enabled by maintaining all component manufacturing in house and the selection of only the best materials. The exceptional workmanship is evident down to the finest detail. Such is Falmec's confidence in the quality of their extraction systems that a three year customer care warranty is offered with all models.

Diamante FAH9019

superior performance

As kitchens become the focal point of our homes and the extraction system a show piece in this environment, the last frustration you need is an appliance that doesn't perform well. Falmec's extraction systems are equipped with Falmec's own durable and efficient fan system delivering a high boost performance for when those times are needed in a busy kitchen, down to a subtle yet efficient extraction capability.
